

Palace House Newmarket

Go along and explore their five-acre site in the heart of Newmarket and discover objects, buildings and stories about racing's rich heritage.

Find out about the surprising science of anatomy of thoroughbreds and then meet one of their live equine stars and hear about the work of the Retraining of Racehorses charity.

There are lots of interactives along the way. You can even step into the remaining part of Charles II's Newmarket Palace and enjoy the collection of Sporting Art.

If you're up for a challenge, why not dress up in a jockey's silks and ride in their famous racehorse simulator?

There's so much to do.

Learning Credits

CU Learners will receive between up to 2 hours of CU Learning for the activities they offer.

Further information

www.palacehousenewmarket.co.uk